

INFORMATION SHEET

SETTLEMENTS PROGRAM

A settlement is a compromise on the dollar amount of a tax liability, consistent with the reasonable evaluation of the costs and risks associated with litigation of the issue(s).

California Unemployment Insurance Code (CUIC) Section 1236 allows the Employment Development Department (EDD) to settle certain civil employment tax disputes.

The Settlements Program allows an employer the opportunity to enter into a settlement agreement to avoid the cost of prolonged litigation associated with resolving a disputed employment tax matter.

SETTLEMENTS PROCESS

Generally, we will only consider a settlement offer when the assessment or denial of claim for refund is under petition with the California Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board (CUIAB) or before a civil court. If the case is still in process or involves fraud and/or a criminal violation(s), the case is generally not eligible for settlement.

When reviewing an offer, we consider the risk of loss for the State and the cost of litigation balanced against the benefits of reaching a settlement agreement. Issues of fairness, financial hardship, and the survival of the business may be considered to establish a settlement amount, but cannot be used as the sole reason for entering into a settlement agreement. Upon approval of the settlement offer, the employer and EDD will enter into a settlement agreement. Some settlement agreements are subject to approval by an administrative law judge, the CUIAB, and/or the Attorney General.

PUBLIC DISCLOSURE

CUIC Section 1236 requires a public record for any settlement agreement that forgives more than $500 (taxes and penalties). The public records are on file with EDD's Director in Sacramento, California.

HOW TO APPLY

To apply for a settlement, you must submit a settlement offer. The settlement offer must be in writing; however, there is no prescribed format. At a minimum, include all of the following information in your settlement offer:

- Your EDD employer account number.
- The specific assessment or the denial of claim for refund for which you are offering the settlement, along with information such as the date of assessment or denial of claim for refund, amount of liability involved, and period covered.
- The basis for your offer, including the amount and terms of your offer.
- An analysis of the risk of loss to the State or a reasonable estimate of the cost of litigation which appears excessive and the reason why the offer should be considered.
- The name, address, and telephone number of the individual authorized to negotiate your settlement agreement, if applicable.

If you believe you qualify, submit your settlement offer to:

EDD
Settlements Office, MIC 93
PO Box 826880
Sacramento, CA 94280-0001

If your offer meets the criteria for a settlement, EDD will contact you for final negotiation and execution. If your offer does not meet the criteria for a settlement agreement, you will receive a denial letter from the Settlements Office.

We will engage in open and constructive negotiations throughout the entire settlement process. If an agreement is not reached between the employer and EDD, all information disclosed during the negotiation process is considered confidential and cannot be used by EDD against the employer.

If you have specific questions regarding EDD's Settlements Program, contact our Settlements Office at (916) 654-7922 or (916) 654-7162.

NOTE:

If your disputed employment tax matter is final or the sole issue is the inability to pay, it will not meet the criteria for a settlement. However, there may be other options available to you. For information on these options, call the telephone number listed on your most recent Employer Account Statement (DE 2176). If you are unable to resolve the issue and require further assistance, contact EDD's Taxpayer Advocate Office at (916) 654-8957.
